Dick McGovney, Link With Early Mokena, Dies

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the Sonntag chapel at Joliet for Walter E. McGovney who died last week-end at his home in Mokena. The Rev. William Riemann officiated and burial was in Marshall cemetery, about three miles west of Mokena in New Lenox township.

Altho christened Walter as far as anyone knows, now living in Mokena, he was always known as Dick McGovney.

He was one of the last direct links Mokena had with its early history. He was born here almost 96 years ago—Feb. 21, 1862 on what is now the Edwin Yunker farm on LaPorte road.

The parents, Elijah and Katherine Van Horn McGovney got the land on a government patent. Theresa, the first of the couple's offspring, was born there and the next was Dick.

Elijah McGovney served in the Union army in the Civil War and when he came home he brought with him a negro child slave that he had found along the road. The McGovneys raised the youngster and when he was grown he became a preacher. As far as is known this was the first and only negro resident of Mokena.

When Dick was older but still a child the parents took him and Theresa to look over Missouri. They traveled by covered wagon and Dick used to recount how he and his father slept under the wagon, guns at their sides, prepared to blast those thieves or any other prowlers.

They returned to Mokena within a short time and Dick spent the remainder of his life here. Besides Theresa there were two other daughters, Mattie and Ada and two other sons, Edward and George. All are dead.

Dick never married and lived alone. In 1916 he brought the building that had served Mokena as a village hall and jail, moved it to his five acre tract of land on LaPorte road, and since then had used it for a dwelling.

Some years ago while his sister Theresa, Mrs. Osman, was alive Dick spent two or three (Continued to page 16)

Battle of Sexes Winds Up In Police Court

Two Mokena young men and a Joliet girl were fined by Acting Police Magistrate August Werner last Thursday night on charge of disorderly conduct growing out of the brawl that took place the preceding Sunday afternoon in the Rock Island parking space along Front st.

Three more girls arrested in connection with the affair are scheduled to appear in court at Mokena tonight. They are under 18 years of age.

The Mokena men, Warren (Mouse) Tomaska, 21, of 192 Wolf road, and Jack Armin, Wolf road, who police said refused to give his age, were each fined $50 and assessed $5 costs.

The girl fined gave her name and address as Karyn Mair, 1109 Holmes ave., Joliet. She was fined $8 and assessed cost of $2.

The girls who are scheduled to appear tonight are listed as Marcroa Gonzalez and her sister, Beatrice, both of 527 Fox st., and Virginia Seppi, 535 Fox st., all of Joliet.

Stopped for Refreshments

The girls said they had come to Mokena to visit friends and had stopped at a store to get some soft drinks. They encountered Armin and Tomaska. According to information obtained by Mokena authorities remarks were exchanged that led to an argument. The men claim the girls started it and the girls claim that it was the men.

Tomaska and Armin are alleged to have blocked the girls car, driven by Miss Mair, so it could not be moved, police say, and added that the men threw mud at the girls. One of the girls threw some pop on Armin's car and the Seppi girl is alleged to have heaved a pop bottle thru Armin's windshield.

Armin is alleged to have retaliated by dancing on the hood of the girls' car and kicking out the windshield.

Fine Traffic Violators

Last Thursday night was an expensive one for Tomaska. In addition to the $50 fine he was fined $10 and costs, the costs being $2, for parking his car in a no parking zone.

League Cage Lead At Stake Friday

Bremen, Sandburg to Meet in Crucial Tilt —Expect Record Crowd

By ALEX RODGER

Attention of most basketball fans of the Southwest Suburban conference will be centered tomorrow night on the battle between Bremen and Sandburg for the league lead.

Each team has now won five games and lost one and it is possible that a victory tomorrow night will give the winner enough of a morale booster shot for it to go on and take the championship.

Until last week-end Bremen had played one more conference game than Sandburg and consequently its 5 and 1 count for games won and lost put the Braves in first place. But on Friday night the Eagles beat Evergreen Park, 62-57 to tie up the standing.

Not only will there be pressure on both teams tomorrow night but the fans too will be under tension and those with weak hearts are advised to stay home and read a book.

A capacity crowd is anticipated and the gym is expected to be filled before the frosh-soph game begins at 6:45. The varsity tilt will get under way about 8 o'clock.

Dust Off Argo

While Bremen did not have a league game last week the Braves kept their winning form in a contest with Argo. Like the last several games the Braves have played, the one with Argo was a thriller, that was decided in the final few seconds. The final score was 54-52, Bremen.

Bremen drew first blood in the Argo game with a free throw by Dale Hartwig, followed by a basket by Jerry O'Neill and from that point on were never headed. The Braves had a commanding lead at half-time, 26 to 15 and it looked like they might coast in from there but Argo's Westowski, Parker and Jancnovich found the range in the third quarter and dropped in 21 points so that when the period ended Bremen's lead had been cut to two points and the score stood at 38-36.

Quick baskets by Rich Tindall and Hartwig to start the fourth quarter eased the pressure and O'Neill also helped with a couple of set shots that swished thru without touching the rim.

Tindall Brings Relief

Both teams began trading baskets as the frame drew to a close and with nine seconds remaining the Braves clung to a one-point margin, 51 to 50. Bremen partisans were gripping the edges of their seats when Tindall enabled them to slide back and relax when he dropped in a basket and a free throw to put the game on ice. Argo got two more points just before the final horn sounded but too late.

The frosh-soph contest was another thriller that was decided in the closing seconds and in this game the Argos were on top when time ran out. The final score was Argo 33, Bremen 30.

Injuries Put L-W Mat Team at Disadvantage

By DON LEHMANN

During the past week, Lincoln-Way dropped a pair of home wrestling matches 28-16 and 41-13 respectively to Morgan Park Military academy and Carl Sandburg.

The Morgan Park match was a heartbreaker to lose. Lincoln-Way wasn't at full strength to begin with, as the Knights' star and co-captain, Woody Zitter, had reinjured his knee and was on crutches. It is not definitely known how long he will be out of action, but it is a serious blow for the Knights.

Tony Santerelli started things with a pin, his third consecutive victory. Harry Johnson then won a 3-0 decision. Then, L-W's chances were hurt again, when undefeated Ed Zitter suffered a mild concussion from being thrown off the mat.

Sophomores Al Grybash and Bill Zelko were the only others beating their Cadet opponents. Senior Dave McGuire lost his first match of the year, 3-2.

The Eagles of Sandburg had an easy time with Lincoln-Way, overpowering them 41-13. Harry Johnson, filling in for Woody Zitter, won a second period pin. Tom Miller of Sandburg just wouldn't be pinner, so Ken Zitter had to be satisfied with a lopsided 14-1 decision. Dave McGuire, quickly regaining form, hopped back on the victory road by means of his second period pin.

Lincoln-Way's last home meet will be Tuesday, Jan. 28 against Bloom in an evening match.

Sandburg Grapplers Win Quadrangular Meet At Champaign

Mokena Downs Frankfort In League Play

Mokena's Bantam weight entry in the Taft Tournament lost to Limestone 34 to 25 in Saturday's Championship game and had to settle for second place.

The game was closely contested until the final minutes of play when Steve Smith left the game on fouls. He had accounted for five baskets and his loss sealed the decision. Mokena trailed at the half 18 to 17 but couldn't score with any consistency in the second half, altho fought to a 25 to 24 lead shortly after the final period began. Paul Brown sparked Mokena's rally and tied Smith as high scorer with ten points.

Mokena advanced to the finals by downing Troy Friday 20 to 15. Brown led the attack with ten points.

Mokena returned to conference play last Thursday, with a double win over its arch rival, Frankfort. The Meteorites pushed their conference record to three wins and two losses by winning 21 to 15. The Meteorites raced to an easy 49 to 33 victory. They now have a record of 4 and 1.

Baker's 12 points paced the Meteorites while Muehler with 21 and Johnson with 20 showed the way for the Meteors.

The victory marked the eighth straight triumph over Frankfort's heavyweights. Mokena's lights have lost once in five years to Frankfort.

Mokena journeys to Channahon tomorrow night.

Knights Split Bill With Reavis Frosh-Sophs Win, Varsity Loses

The Lincoln-Way Knights varsity basketball team wound up its first half of the 1957-58 cage season last Friday night with losing to the Reavis Rams 48 to 32.

The Knights have hopes that the remaining half of the season will be better than the first. At the half-way point the records show the Knights have won three non-conference games and lost one but conference play was a different story. In league games L-W has lost five and won but one. If the Knights can hit just a mite better this second half they should finish on a 50 per cent basis, which would be their best season yet.

In the curtain-raiser last Friday night a 42-38 win for the Lincoln-Way frosh-sophs over Reavis gave L-W a split for the bill.

In the varsity contest the Knights led the Rams most of the first quarter but in the second frame Reavis chalked up four baskets and a like number of free throws to go in front. Bob Stancik scored eight of the points for the Rams in that period.

In the third quarter the Rams scored 14 more points while Lincoln-Way was held to four, a basket by Ron Sorrell and a free throw apiece by Lee Yunker and Ron Fredin.

In the final period each team scored 12 points, Sorrell making six for the Knights and Svoboda six for the Rams.

Twenty fouls were called against the Knights and Reavis took advantage of the fact, scoring 18 points on free throws. Lincoln-Way scored only six points on charity heaves.

Henry Jessen was high man for the Knights with nine points while Bob Svoboda was on top for Reavis with 17.

In the frosh-soph contest the Lincolns led by a point at the end of the first frame but were trailing by two points at half-time.

Nine fouls called on L-W the first half gave the Reavis crew the free throw line. Lincoln-Way had six chances and cashed in on five.

The third quarter was one of those basket for basket affairs with Reavis hitting first and last for a four-point advantage when the final period began.

The Lincolns went to work in the final quarter with everyone scoring to top Reavis by eight points for the period and four for the game.

Tom Peterson with 12 points and Joe "Skip" Kruzich with 11 were top scorers for L-W, with Bob Natale taking the honors for Reavis with 16.

The Lincoln-Way frosh-soph conference play the first half of the season and scored four won three and lost three in wins as against no defeats in non-conference games.

The Lincoln-Way teams will travel to Evergreen Park tomorrow night, with the frosh-soph tilt beginning at 6:45 and the varsity game about 8 o'clock.

Evergreen Park high school is located at 97th and Kedzie. Tickets may be purchased at the door. A large number of Lincoln-Way fans are expected to make the trip.

Eagles Beat Evergreens 62-57 to Tie Up Southwest Suburban Race

Followers of the Sandburg varsity basketball team are jubilant this week as a result of last Friday night's encounter with Evergreen Park in a most important conference contest. The Sandburgs won 62 to 57 in a battle that was stubbornly fought and the victory pulled them up on even terms with Bremen which had been leading in the standings. Now the two teams have each won five games while losing one.

After tomorrow night either the Eagles will be the conference leader or the honor will fall on the Bremen Braves. The two teams play each other tomorrow night at Midlothian and there are no ties in basketball.

In the Evergreen Park game last week Sandburg had a 13-point lead at the half, 43 to 30 only to see it dwindle when the second half got under way and the Evergreens made a desperate effort to close the gap.

Little Pat Ford had a good night, scoring 27 points, and his teammate Mark Hill accounted for 32 rebounds. Bremen doesn't have a lot of height and if Sandburg can get the ball often enough the Braves could be in for trouble, it was pointed out.

The two teams met early in the first round of play and the Braves walked off the floor victors, with a three point margin.

Unless these two teams fall apart during the second round of games, one of them should take the championship.

Rich, which had been the champion since the conference was organized, apparently is far out of the running, and the other teams look to be out too, observers say.

Four Key Athletes Escape Injury When Bus Rams Into Car

Four members of the Bremen High school basketball team escaped injury, but the car in which they were riding, was seriously damaged when it was hit from behind by a school bus.

The boys, who live in Tinley Park, are Richard Tindall, the driver; Dale Hartwig, Jerry O'Neil, and Roger Hug.

The accident happened during the severe snowstorm on Tuesday, near Harlem on 183rd st. The bus which was not damaged in the accident drives Tinley pupils to and from a girls' Catholic High school in Frankfort.

Injury to any of the boys might have proved disastrous not only to themselves, but to the team. Interest is keen on the outcome of the Bremen-Sandburg game Friday night at Bremen. Both are tied for first place in the southwest suburban conference with a 5-1 record.

Provided, that such unclaimed property, if deemed by the Police Committee to be of use to the Police Department, may be retained for the use of said department; and provided, further, that no member of said department, directly or indirectly, shall purchase or participate in the bidding for or purchase of such unclaimed property.

If any property seized by or coming into the possession of the Police Department shall be of a perishable nature or of such a nature as to make it dangerous or inadvisable to retain possession thereof for sixty days, the Police Committee shall cause to be published in a newspaper published or of general circulation in the Village, a

Frankfort Methodists Open New Church

MOVING TO NEW CHURCH—Methodists of Frankfort moved into their new church last Sunday morning, Jan. 19. Following a brief service at the old church the members formed a procession and made their way to the new edifice on Sauk Trail, singing as they marched. (Robert Porter photo)

THE REV. AND MRS. BEN DAY are seated here at the pastor's desk in his study at the new Methodist church at Frankfort. A clergyman's life is a busy one anytime but when a church is being built he is double-busy. A study today is a place to work but not to relax. (Robert Porter photo)

CONGREGATION ARRIVES at new Frankfort Methodist church. There are still some details of the interior to be finished before the new church is completed. It is built low and of modern design. (Robert Porter photo)

SNOWMA'AM—Now here's a switch for you. Instead of a snowman, Jack Gorman, of Mokena, assisted by his two young daughters, Linda, 2, and Janet, (right) 4 years old, built a snowma'am this week. Notice the apron and the puff sleeve on her raised arm. The snowlady is or was better than six feet tall but has shrunk somewhat now. A few days of sunshine and phut-t-t—but that's the way the ball bounces.

IN KLONDIKE DERBY—Tinley Park Boy Scout Troop 255, was one of the many units that took part in the Klondike Derby at Camp Sullivan last week. Had the affair been run off this week the sled would have pulled easier

—there being ample snow covering. The man in the picture is Archie Alberts, scoutmaster of Troop 255. In this picture the boys are taking some instances they did break. Pretty stuff, when one considers time out from racing for eating which also is quite popular. (Robert Porter photo)

CAN'T SEE FOREST FOR THE SNOW—This scene was taken at Mokena during the heavy snow storm Tuesday. Trees were so laden that their branches bent almost to the breaking point. In some instances they did break. Pretty stuff, when one considers it from a scenic standpoint, but darned nasty if one has to work in or travel on it. (Marvin Smith photo)

OUR PRIMARY NEEDS

Now I can report on the first meeting of our Home Owners association held last week in the large model house. I consider this Association to be our embryo town council form of government.

It consists of 24 representatives chosen at open weekly meetings of each block area. There are 300 women residents out here but only two were chosen to serve on the representation, Jane Wolf and myself.

Surely next year when the election comes again, there will be greater effort to invite the women home owners. Every woman has her name on the purchasing papers for her home, and she must, most of all, suffer from any mistakes made in community planning. Til then, Mrs. Wolf and I will do our best to voice reasonable and positive improvements in our village.

At last week's meeting, I found the representatives to be a generally calm and sincere group. We found our common purpose to be the wisest and widest possible investment of funds at our disposal for every need that might cross our attention. And we acted instantly on the first emergency facing our village.

C. W. Leek, who represents the Merrion company, but lives with us here as a home-owner also, conducted this introductory meeting. His leadership was constructive and deferential. His advice was sound and worthy. His aims were proven to be the same as our own.

Under the combined guidance of Mr. Leek and the attorney offered us by the Merrion company, Mr. Brogan, the group unanimously agreed on two steps: 1. To postpone election of officers til the next meeting. 2. To sign signatures to a legally acceptable offer to use our funds to rent a building for use as a community meeting hall.

Prior to the meeting, I had collected clippings and notes concerning our primary needs. At the end of the meeting, I was asked by some members for more copies of my outline, but had not typed more. Skipping over the entire copy, I shall print here a few excerpts:

1. Village Meeting Hall

This was solved with heart-warming quickness and every member signed the letter to be sent to Mr. Beam, president of the school board. It is hoped our funds will enable Mr. Beam to request immediate erection of the fourth school building. If the building can be put up instantly, the community may possibly use it as soon as the present school facilities are removed from use. (See item below on "School Board Meeting.")

This will be temporary, naturally, but it will allow our civic groups to meet until next September. At that time a permanent solution must be found.

2. Public Playgrounds

When I raised this question, Mr. Leek announced there is now available a vacant lot and it will be possible for us to equip it with play equipment, if we so vote later.

3. Selecting Attorneys

At a later time, the Home Owners association has the right to meet and choose any attorney they so wish to represent and advise them. The Merrion office merely sent Mr. Brogan, as a courteous gesture, for our convenience in this formation period.

4. Highway Safety Survey

I had hoped we could mail an official request for surveying our problems with surrounding highway accidents. Mr. Leek informed us the Merrion company has already filed two requests with proper officials for traffic lights at the 183rd and Cicero intersection. It might be proper for all members of the association to sign a request at a future meeting, adding our numbers to Mr. Merrion's hoped for influence.

As I said earlier, it was an invigorating and promising meeting. We will have several thousand dollars to work with, all collected from every buyer when he signed for his house. If you want a voice in the expenditure of these funds, contact your block representative. We will all try to do our best to serve wisely.

FACES IN THE DIRT

Why do some young children persist in foolish vandalism? Do their parents realize the useless destruction they cause when they are playing out in the public roads?

I am speaking of our colorful patrol boy signs, face down in the dirt of the road ditches day after day. Put up by conscientious adults—then thrown down again. And sewer covers lifted!

How would you feel if your youngest child were found face down inside one of those mammoth street sewers? There would be no time for regrets then—only sorrow.

Last summer, many a time, I saw three year olds "romping" (unchaperoned) down inside of the horribly deep drainage ditch that runs near my backyard. It made me shudder. Had their mothers ever once looked out and seen what I saw, they would have fainted. It worried me then but I was too busy with my own four young ones to protect other women's children.

But this week I received a call about the vandalism and what I would call "idiocy" committed week after week by some schoolage children. Street signs torn down. Sewer covers thrown away. Patrol signs overturned in ditches.

Where are the parents of these children? Such a young village to have so many orphans, aren't we?

LOYAL OLD MOOSE

Our neighbor from a farm area George Hein, is local membership contact for anybody wishing information about this worthy fraternity. He has leaflets galore, bright and infirmative, about their child care, old people's homes, and civic work of all kinds. Like some? Call KE 2-3869.

DID THEY EAT?

When Jessie Hein prepared to serve cake and coffee to the PTA open meeting, she was swamped with helpers. What a fine way to work. She called to thank all those who made the refreshments hour so pleasant—for the 55 people who attended.

LaVonne Beam, Evelyn Van Horn, Eloise Swanson, Rusty Wilson, Esther Malone, Alice MacKenzie, Bob Senecal, Mrs. Schwenk, Eddy Moore, Mrs. Chavanne, Marilyn Matthews, Florence Jones, Doris Toner and Mary Lou Keyes.

NEW FIRE STATION

Firemen spent the past week-end painting the new station on Patrick ave. Bob Otto, local heating engineer, spent considerable time installing a new furnace. Several firms donated their time and materials to help with the new station.

CHURCH

BUYS BUILDING

The Chicago Disciples Union, which has sponsored formation of our own inter-denominational church, has entered into a contract for purchasing a vacated house in the village. It is located on the southeast corner lot of 182nd and Anthony, in Unit two.

This is good news, as it means the Country Club Hills Christian church will now have its own property, house and grounds for use as it sees fit, independent of other organizations. Sunday school classes, etc. have created this need long before the school board's recent decision that use of school property must cease as of Feb. 15.

The Rev. J. J. Van Boskirk, of course, still plans ahead to the day when church contributions will allow purchase of a large tract of land with a permanent church building on it. But, until such funds become available, it is good to know the Disciples Union has such faith in the combined efforts of their minister and our neighbors, who have been working so hard to create a healthy religious center for our Protestant families.

CATHOLIC SCHOOLS

It was announced by Clarence Beam at the school board meeting that the Harvey district now has a new Catholic school and has been able to remove some of the past pressure from the St. Joseph Catholic school, in Home wood. With a new building of its own, St. Joseph's invites our new families to enroll their children in its Catholic school.

NEW SPONSOR

The Mothers Club of Coopers Grove school announces it will sponsor the new Girl Scout movement being formed in our village. Brownies are also being organized and have had one planning meeting in Jean Leek's home.

A LETTER FROM OUR FIRE DEPARTMENT

The trustees of Country Club Hills Fire Protection district announce the appointment of Frank Daniels, 18033 Thomas Lane, as the chief of the fire department. Frank has been chairman of the Volunteer Fire men's club since its inception. He has been active in the formation of the fire department.

Mr. Daniels duties shall include control and supervision of the fire department and fire apparatus and equipment belonging to the district.

He is one of the early residents of Country Club Hills. He is a former resident of Homewood, where he served on the volunteer fire department. Frank and his wife, Terry, have two children, Mark and Donna. Signed by Trustees of the Fire Department:

Mr. John J. Lynch
Mr. Frank Miller
Mr. Bob White

MEET THE MINISTER'S SON

Young Roe Van Boskirk played the organ for his father's church service last Sunday morning. This is the third time he has played hymns for the singing. He told me his passionate interest has always been: Music. He hopes to be a concert pianist and studies now with Mr. Mark Hallet, in his own village of Morgan Park.

Roe told me Mr. Hallet is conductor of the Euterpean chorus. (I wonder what this means?) Roe hopes to study at Oberlin college in Ohio when he is older. He is now 13 years old, enrolled at Esmond school.

It is especially intriguing to hear Roe play, as the church now uses an antique portable organ brought to us by the Rev. Mr. VanBoskirk. Anyone with the slightest interest in music would enjoy watching the footwork and hearing the unusual chords of this rare instrument.

I think Roe has mastered it thru sheer genius.

PTA AT LAST

The Coopers Grove PTA local unit had a rewarding first public meeting last week in the main school at 184th and Central. Little would you realize the weeks of preparation that were spent by around 25 people to bring this dream to a reality.

Teachers present were: Mr. Cole, Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Ramseyer. An estimated 55 persons attended the open meeting and chose their temporary chairman Don Swanson, and temporary secretary, Doris Toner. Mrs. Fred Millard, district director, answered questions and advised the group on steps of action to develop a superior working PTA.

A nominating committee was chosen with James Moore as chairman, and Mr. Chavanne, Mr. Van Horn and Doris Toner. Acting bylaws chairman will be Mr. William Jirick. During the meeting, Mr. White spoke for the fire department and Mr. Beam spoke for the school board.

The election of officers will be held at 8 pm., Thursday, Jan. 30. Mr. Swanson said all women marching for the Polio fund may arrive at the PTA meeting by 9 pm. and be included in the membership listing and voting. (The March of Dimes takes place that evening from 7 to 8 pm.)

The Strongest Possible

Our school board, Clarence Beam, president, Mr. Ray Bergmann, and Roy Simmons, proved themselves to be the strongest possible elected board.

Mr. Beam surprised the room of 30 or more citizens attending last week's board report by announcing that as of Feb. 15 not one civic group can again use school classrooms for meetings! At first thought, this was quite a shock. As Mr. Beam announced, in his calming manner: "It is the duty of the school board to protect all interests of the school only—the building, the staff and the pupils." He went on to describe the tortuous hours wasted on scheduling meetings night after night in the classrooms.

Did you know that in the month of January alone, we had 27 open meetings scheduled for our schoolhouse? This doesn't even touch the home meetings for pre-planning, etc.

Think of it! 27 meetings in one month. And with no school auditorium or hall, all this was going on with teachers' and pupils' properties, besides fuel, light etc.

SCHOOL CHANGES

Though this announcement clouded over every other report of that evening, many progress-es had been made in the past month. Some: 1. Andrew Tobin, principal, has moved his entire office and belongings into the middle temporary school here. This is a fine idea, for it puts him in the heart of the major problems with older pupils, greater numbers, and temporary physical facilities.

2. Teachers begin a lunch rotation plan of responsibility for those pupils who must bring their lunches to school and be chaperoned during noon hour.

3. This is so important, I'll make a new paragraph:

As of Feb. 1, all children will pay $1 a month for bus rides. This is less than 5c a day and will help carry the extra $175 monthly charge for our new extra bus run.

SCHOOL BOARD ELECTION

If you wish to be a candidate for the new seven man school board in next April's election, attend the February school board meeting and get petitions. You must file 50 signatures with the present board a month before the election to be eligible.

Any man or woman, with the usual residence requirements, may file a petition for candidacy.

WELCOME, WILMA SLINKER

Mrs. Slinker comes to teach our first grade from California. Mothers report she is very pretty. (I know my son likes her very much.) She has taught for two years in the primary grades and loves working with young children.

SOME QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Among questions from the floor that were answered by Mr. Beam at the school board meeting were these: 1. The problem of missing substitute teachers will be taken up with the district superintendent, who is responsible for this lack.

2. Over $700, a gift from a civic group to the school, has been spent wisely on: Industrial floor cleaners, scrubbers, and vacuum. Also a surrey lawnmower for yard maintenance when weeds get so healthy in this fresh country air. (Do they ever.) 3. Mrs. Underwood returns to teach this week in the 4th grade. 4. The bus company has charged owners and they added new bus stops for us with no extra charge. 5. When you vote for the new board in April, you can only vote once for each name; not give all votes to one name.

Budding Saints

Little girls help our needy school, too. At Christmas time a group of carolers from the 6th to 8th grades went singing and people insisted on giving them $4.10. Do you know what they did? They gave every penny of it to our school with a sweet letter. Their names: Pat Barthel, Gloria Brown, Lin Brown, Dianne Hein, Jo Anne Hein, Jackie Hennessy, Marge Lundis, Sandra Raddatz, Sue Schneider, Shirley Schultz, Diane Skinkis, Donna Skinkis, and Dari Thomas.

Doesn't that make you feel better?

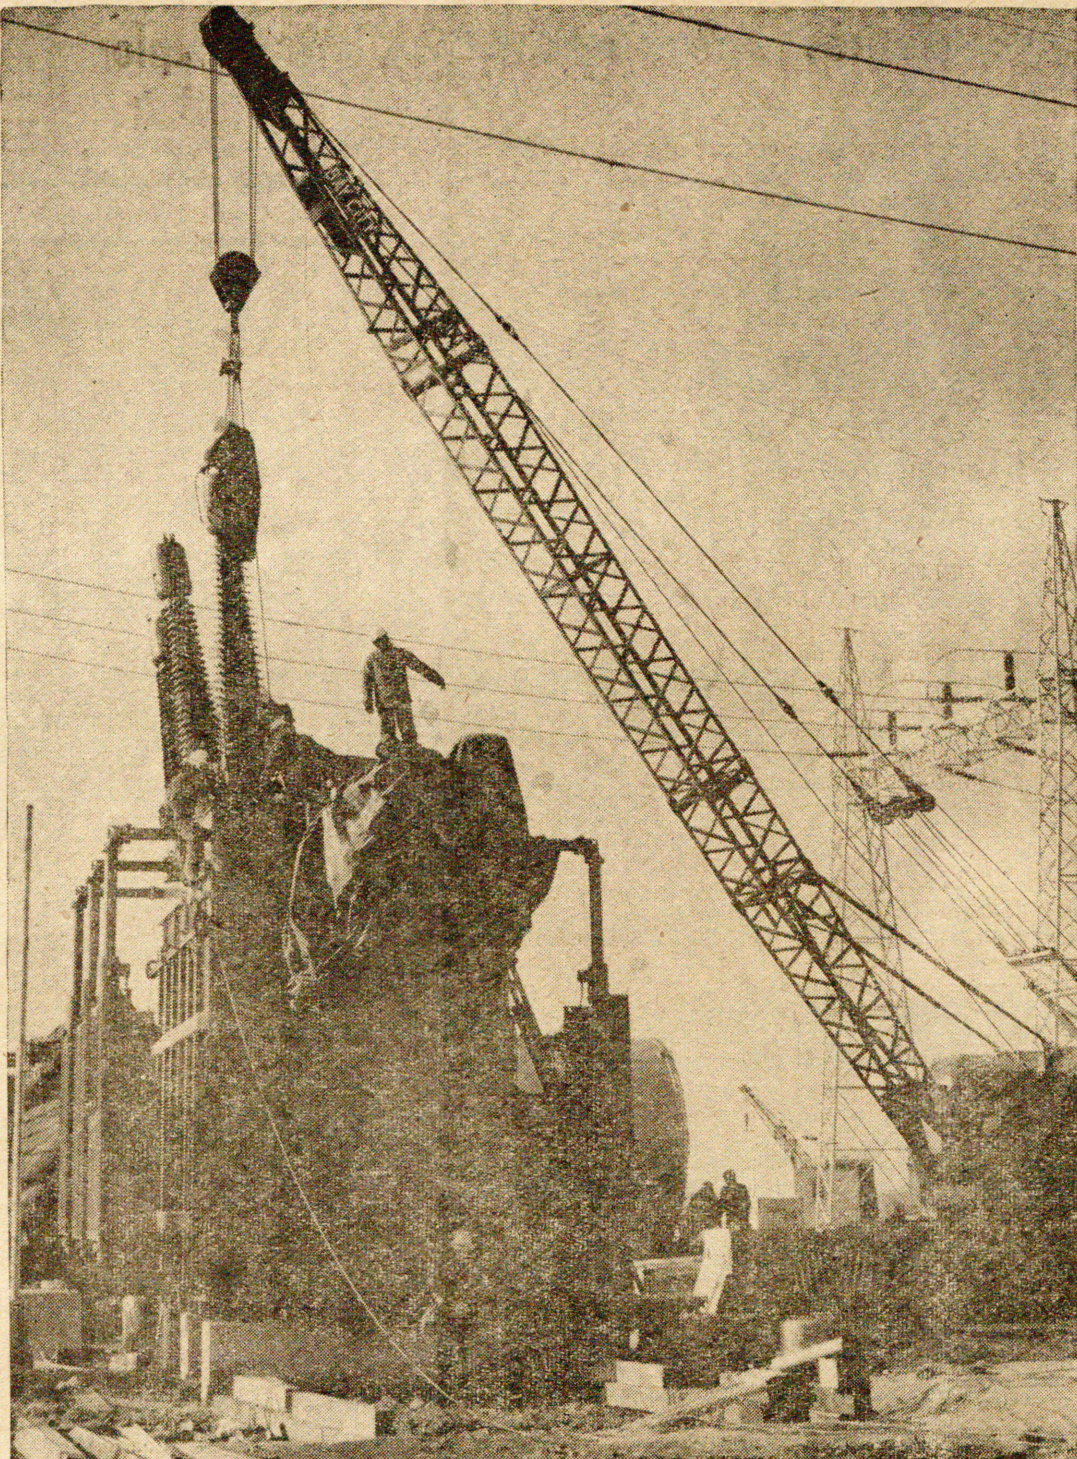

We're all working so hard to build a rock firm community, and even the children want to help us!

On that happy note, I say, call me, Rusty Wilson, SY 8-5669 Til next week then.

BOILER 20 STORIES HIGH

Workmen have a 55 ton girder in place at the top of the Commonwealth Edison Public Service Company generating station at Joliet. This girder is a part of the structure from which a 20 story high boiler, for a new 305,000 kilowatt turbine generator unit, will be suspended. The new unit is scheduled for service in 1959.

NEAR COMPLETION—Construction of Commonwealth Edison Public Service Company's transmission substation at Goodings Grove, near Orland Park, approaches completion as workers speed assembly of one of two giant transformers.

The substation will be the utility's terminal for the 90-mile long, 345,000-volt transmission line being erected between Goodings Grove and the American Gas and Electric system terminal at New Carlisle, Indiana.

The new, extra-high voltage interconnection will make possible transfer between the two utilities of large amounts of power for emergency, maintenance and economy purposes.

Power of display advertising carried in The Semmler Press last week was evidenced Tuesday night in the attendance at the grand opening of the new Jewel Food Store at Tinley Park.

Burglars Get $45 In Cash, 6 Tires At Florey's Station

Florey's Service Station, Front and Wolf road, Mokena, was burglarized last Thursday night and six tires and $45 in cash stolen.

The value of the tires has not been fixed but they were all new so the loss will be well over $100 in merchandise.

Deputies from the sheriff's office are investigating.

The Bremen Beat

By EDWIN BRUELL

State scholarships for the 1958-59 school year will be awarded by the Illinois state scholarship commission, it was announced by Robert Moser, director of guidance at Bremen community high school.

Each scholarship will provide up to $600 in tuition and necessary fees, and it may be used for undergraduate work at any accredited college or university in Illinois.

Applicants must be Illinois residents and high school graduates by summer of 1958, with no college or advanced training. They must be in the upper half of the class, of good moral character, and in need of scholarship assistance.

Deadline for application blanks for the scholarship was midnight of Friday, Jan. 10. Candidates make a separate application for admission to the college or university of their choice.

Further information may be secured from the acting executive director of the Illinois State Scholarship Commission, University of Illinois, Navy Pier, Chicago 11.

INDUSTRIAL CLASSES

"Our aim is for the students to gain a variety of technical skills with different types of materials, tools, and processes, which will help them in making vocational selections for the future, and to provide some insight into the many industries using these materials. We consider it equally important to expand their knowledge to an understanding and appreciation of the general industrial and aesthetic world."

Stressing the idea that another objective of the industrial arts department of Bremen community high school is to understand the other person's job and point of view, William Krone, chairman of the industrial arts department at Bremen, added that the instruction is also aimed at enabling students to employ their knowledge in maintaining real property and beautifying their surroundings.

At Bremen, students in industrial arts may take courses in woodworking, drafting, arts, metalwork, crafts, electricity, and auto shop, the latter two courses first offered this year. Another innovation this year is the offering of arts and crafts as separate courses.

All such courses are electives. In the industrial type of shops, full credit is given for seven and a half periods of work a week. In the arts or crafts course, half credit is given for five periods of work a week. All the courses are offered for the full year.

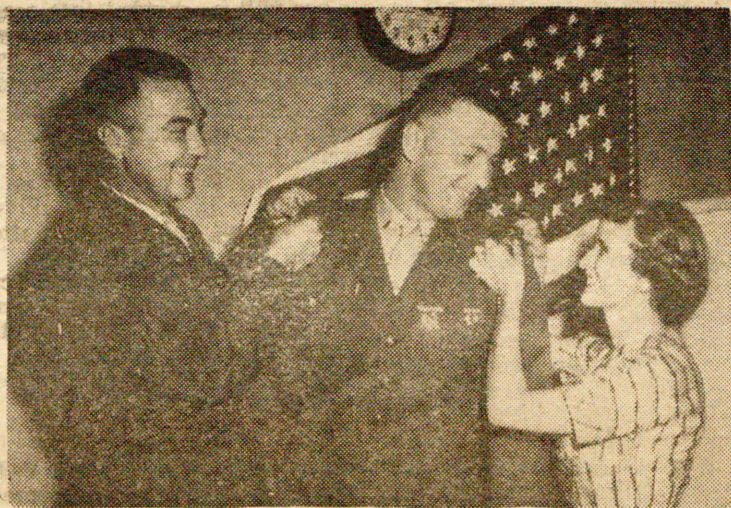

A typical Bremenite would have his first introduction to the shops by enrolling in an orientation course called "Vocational Survey." This basic course gives nine weeks' experience in each of the fields of woodworking, drafting, metalwork, and electricity. Training in this elementary course is a requirement for participation in advanced shop work.

The typical "Bob Bremen" may continue for the next two years studying in any one shop or take any combination of shops, including auto shop, for the last three years.

The school is operating under a necessary handicap at present, since the new wing has not yet been completed. Auto shop and electric shop study need to be taught in regular type classrooms without the benefit of some equipment, and art classes are sharing a room with crafts classes. This situation will be remedied when the new wing is finished.

What is the difference between arts and crafts, as taught at Bremen?

"Art work is training in the graphic phases of arts, largely two dimensional work, using all types of color media, as well as

STEPS UP—Promoted to Marine First Lieutenant Dec. 20, Raymond A. Fedo has his new silver bars pinned on by his wife the former Miss Lorraine A. Pirce of 119 Central ave., Rockdale, and his battalion commander, Lt. Col. S. C. Munson. Lt. Fedo is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Embling, New Lenox, and is serving with the 1st Anti-Tank Battalion of the 1st Marine Division at Camp Pendleton, Calif. A graduate of Lewis College, Lt. Fedo has been in the Marines since July, 1956.

as studies of three dimensional making mobiles, paper sculpture forms, such as in clay modeling, and similar operations," Krone said.

He pointed out by contrast that crafts work involves the "studies in the techniques and materials of work with leather, metals, plastics, enamels on copper, ceramics, and almost any other form of material within reason which can be used to do creative work."

How are arts and crafts made a part of the daily life of Bremen?

Krone emphasized that the arts and crafts programs try to co-operate with other department by having students decorate the building appropriately for holidays. Student artists and craftsmen are also called on to provide decorations and settings for special events like powwows, proms, and plays.

In these operations the staff of skilled teachers lends its personal supervision to the setting up of these displays, ornaments and artistic projects.

Teachers in the industrial arts department, besides Krone, who teaches vocational survey and electricity, are the following: Philip McBair, vocational survey and woodworking; Richard Zuege, vocational survey and drafting; Robert Adams, vocational survey and metal shop; Orville Hall, auto shop, drafting, and woodwork; Oscar Young, drafting; Leonard Madura, arts; and Robert Johnson, crafts.

Later a dinner was served in the home of the infant's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Adam winter at her home in Joliet but he was an independent character and preferred to live by himself.

He was a good farmer and hired out as such to landowners in the area. He also prepared gardens for townspeople and done other odd jobs to earn enough to meet his simple wants. He kept a cow, a few chickens and a constant companion for the past 18 years was a dog, blind for the past several years and now that his master is gone the dog has been put to sleep.

A nephew, Walter Osman, a city employee of Joliet came out every week to see Dick and make certain that he had food and fuel. When Osman came out last Sunday he found the front door ajar and when he pushed it open there was his uncle, lying on the floor where apparently he had fallen after a heart attack which might have occurred Saturday or Friday.

There is a McGovney family plot in the Marshall cemetery but Dick does not rest in it. He picked a separate lot there for himself, which might be expected of a man who stood on his own two feet all his long life and while he was always willing to give help to anyone he never asked for any.

Buchar, Joliet attorney, for probate judge; Leo J. Meehan, Joliet, restaurant operator and chairman of the Democrat county central committee, for county clerk; John (Jackie) Pfeiffer, Wilmington, for probate clerk; Paul H. Hileman, Jr., Braidwood for treasurer, and John J. Long, Joliet, a former deputy sheriff, for sheriff. Will Keltz, who lives in a downtown Joliet hotel, also filed as a candidate for sheriff.

State Senator Lottie Holman O'Neill, a candidate for re-election is being opposed in the primary by Harris W. Fawell, of Naperville. The Democrats also have a candidate for state senator in the 41st district, Hayes Beall, of Lombard.

The Republican state representative committee decided to nominate two for the general assembly and their Democrat counterpart decided to nominate one. There are only two Republicans running for the nomination, Warren Wood, of Plainfield, speaker of the house, both now serving in office, and Louis F. Bottino, Lockport. Without opposition in the primary they are assured of re-election in November.

The Democrat member of the house from the Will County district, Francis J. Loughran, has opposition. Loughran, who is a veteran Democrat leader in the county and district, worked with his Republican colleagues on matters of concern to the county and it was believed he would get away free, as the saying goes, in the primary. However, P. Jay Davis, of Monee has filed his petition for the nomination and says he is in the race to stay. Political observers, however, rate Loughran as the probable winner.

A Mokena man, Robert Hohenstein, is one of the three candidates for county school trustees. Three are to be elected. The other two men, Howard Harsbarger, Plainfield, and Richard P. Oetter, Peotone, are seeking re-election. Hohenstein is running for the place held by F. Dale Hartman, Wheatland township, who decided not to run again.

Portrait of Smiling Lincoln Hangs on Wall at So. Illinois U.

By JOHN W. ALLEN (Southern Illinois University)

Within a few days, we will mark the 149th anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln. It has been about a hundred years since his name became a prominent one over America and men began to write about him. During the past century, according to those who should know, more has been written about him than any other man that ever lived, with the possible exception of the apostle Paul.

Perhaps no other man's name calls forth a clearer mental image with more people. The most familiar one is that of a tall, gaunt man with a seamed and careworn face and with sad but kindly and trusting eyes—a face that became even more careworn as the war between the states dragged on. Even before the war his face was known for its sad calmness. Therefore a portrait that shows him smiling is unusual.

One of the three known likenesses that show Lincoln with a smile hangs in the library of Shurtleff college, now the Alton Residence Center of Southern Illinois university. This portrait of Lincoln was painted in August of 1860 while the campaign to elect him president was being waged and before he began to grow a beard—at the suggestion of little Grace Bedell, according to legend. It is one of three paintings made by the same artist, Albert Johnson Conant. The portrait in the college library was the first of the three Conant paintings, according to a copy of a letter by the artist found in the collection of materials gathered by Dr. Alfred G. Harris, formerly with Shurtleff but now with the SIU Alton Residence center.

Self Taught Artist

Conant, the son of a carpenter house painter, was born on a farm in Massachusetts in 1815. From childhood he showed talent as an artist, sketching and painting portraits of those about him. His formal education, aside from art, was somewhat thorough. He earned both the bachelor of arts and master's degrees. In art, however, he was self taught.

In 1857 Conant came to St. Louis where, in 1860, he established the Western Academy of Art. With the coming of the Civil War the academy closed. In addition to his recognized talent as an artist, Conant was a distinguished and competent archeologist and scientist. He wrote "Archeology of the Missouri Valley" and "Footprints of a Vanished Race." The latter dealt at length with the Illinois mounds. He also wrote "My Acquaintance With Lincoln" and some poetry. Conant was curator of the University of Missouri for eight years and founder of that institution's noted school of mines and metallurgy serving three years as its director.

In the summer of 1860, after Lincoln had been nominated as the presidential candidate of the Republican party, many artists were interested in painting his portrait. Conant, the leading portrait painter of St. Louis, was one of those who had such an opportunity. In July and August of 1860 he made trips to Springfield where Lincoln posed for him.

On his first trip to fill his commission, Conant found Lincoln in conference with a number of men and was seated where he had opportunity to observe Lincoln while awaiting the end of the conference. He noted the easy smile on Lincoln's face and the mobility of his features as he talked with the group, and Conant there decided that his portrait would show a smiling face.

Mrs. Lincoln Liked It

His completed portrait met the ready approval of Mrs. Lincoln who said, "That is excellent; that is the way he looks when he has his friends about him." Conant made three copies of this "Smiling Lincoln." One hangs in the library of Shurtleff. Another is in the possession of Mrs. C. Conant Smith of New York and the third is in the A. Smith Cochran Historical Collection in Yonkers.

After the portrait at Shurtleff was painted it was exhibited at a fair opened by the Prince of Wales in St. Louis and at the Baptist church. Dr. Read, then president of Shurtleff college, saw the painting and wanted it for his college. At the request of Dr. Read, Conant brought it to Alton in 1868 to use in illustrating the painting technique he used. After the lecture Dr. Read secured subscriptions amounting to $125 toward its purchase. The actual amount paid Conant is not definitely known.

After it was brought to Shurtleff the portrait remained on exhibit for a number of years. Then it was taken down, rolled up, and stored behind a stairway where it was found in the early 1890's, covered with dust and grime. We are told that it was carefully cleaned and oiled and that subscriptions were taken to properly frame it. For many years it hung in the chapel of the college until taken to its present place on the south wall of the library. Not being an artist, we cannot, perhaps, evaluate the portrait. We do know, however, that this almost full face beardless portrait intrigues us and that it is, somehow, different.

Dairy Farmers Get Dividend on December Milk

All dairy farmers in Chicago and suburban markets have received an additional payment of 13 per hundred-weights above the Order blend price for their December milk deliveries according to H. L. Edwards, Director of Sales for Pure Milk Association. This added money is included in milk checks which producers are receiving at the present time.

In a successful negotiation Pure Milk Association established a Class I price of $4.15 for the five months of October thru February, 1958. The difference between the Class I price under Federal Order 41 of $3.87 for December and $4.15 was paid into the super-pool operated by the Association. "The total money received was divided by the total amount of milk delivered under the Order and averaged out to 13c per hundred-weight," Edwards said.

Chicago's Milk Market Administrator announced a December blend of $3.54 for milk testing 3.5% butterfat delivered during December to milk plants in the Zone 70-miles from Chicago. Therefore, as a result of the above mentioned negotiation all producers benefitted by the negotiation. Edwards further states that the amount of additional money, 13c per hundred-weight, paid to all producers under the order as a result of negotiations amounted to $543,984.83 in December alone.

The Class I price under the order dropped 19c from $4.06 in November to $3.87 in December. Results of the negotiated price dropped the blend only 9c per hundred-weight from $3.76 to $3.67. The Class I January price under the Order is $3.87, the same as in December. The additional payment to producers may be reduced 1 or 2c per hundred-weight because of increasing volume.

In December the total produc-

The Federal Reserve board has control of money and credit expansion or contraction and can, if it so desires, contract credit and bank loans to the point where money and credit are really "tight". Such "tight" money policies will, of course, slow down economic progress of the nation and control the acceleration of inflationary factors. Federal Reserve Board policies did raise interest costs to borrowers and create what was known as a "tight" money situation.

Tight money created a condition wherein many firms could not get the funds to pay for planned expansion. A good many of the industry leaders remember that in 1953-54 when those who postponed expansion plans because of contraction in general business found themselves at a competitive disadvantage and eventually found it necessary to expand at a higher cost.

The Federal Reserve system had a deliberate policy of credit control. This policy of progressively tightening credit was a major factor in ending the business and stock market boom in 1957.

In mid-November the Federal Reserve system cut the rate it charges to banks for loans from 3½ to 3 per cent. Since then accumulation of loanable funds has made bank loans easier.

Defense spending is being stepped up sharply due to the "sputnik" and Russian efforts in "foreign aid" programs.

The federal housing administrations demands for government insured mortgages on homes have been relaxed.

The FHA field offices have been directed to be much more liberal in approving applications for insured mortgages. This relaxation is designed to stimulate middle-income housing and will be successful.

Highway building program—orders have been sent out to accelerate this program and this should have a substantial effect on the whole economy.

It is most likely that the government will step up the rate and amounts being spent on government aid programs. Russia is now a direct competitor in the field of foreign aid.

Now we have a Federal Reserve ruling that margin requirements for stock market trading, shall be reduced from 70 per cent to 50 per cent.

The Federal Reserve board has done a good job of keeping too far out of hand, in a period inflationary factors from getting when the country is actively involved in a war economy.

Without the Federal Reserve board controls, it is likely the erosion of the purchasing power

Women Voters League Studies Varied Items

Units in the Tinley Park League of Women Voters are busy studying and discussing issue which should be of interest to everyone from local, state and national levels.

Voter's Service and Know Your Town, local items are under the chairmanships of Mrs. Edward Hutchinson and Mrs. Garland Deinert, respectively.

Chairmen of state items, Evaluation of School Finance, and Judicial Reform and Election Laws and Procedures, are Mrs. Marshall Schooley and Mrs. Logan Ozburn, respectively.

Water Conservation, a national item, is under the chairmanship of Mrs. Martin Zimmerman.

Anyone interested in studying and discussing any of these items, may call any of the chairmen listed above, or Miss Ivy Jane Fullbrook, membership chairmen, or Mrs. John Rooney, president, for further information.

of the dollar would have been at an even more active rate than was experienced.

Investors will find that electric utilities and gas distribution systems offer attractive situations. For a number of years, it was assumed that electric utilities grew at the rate of five per cent per year. The rate of growth during past few years has been about eight per cent due to rapid increase in use of electrical aides in home and factory. Air conditioning has given a special impetus.

By 1960 it is calculated that distributors of natural gas will have increased their business by not less than 30 per cent over 1956.

The electric utilities and the natural gas distribution systems have been favorites among the institutional investors such as profit sharing plans, Mutual Funds, endowment funds, etc. as vehicles for both good current return and favorable growth situations.

National Tea Sales for 1957 Set New Record

H. V. McNamara, president of the National Tea Co., reported another new record high in annual sales, reaching more than $681 million, for a gain of over $63 million compared to the previous year, and the 15th consecutive sales record for the Chicago based food chain.

Sales for the four week period ending Dec. 28, 1957 were also the highest of any four week period in the company's history reaching a total of $61,097,388 for an increase of $9,864,602, which was 19.25 percent greater than the corresponding period of 1956, when sales were $51,232,786.

National Tea Co.'s consolidated sales for the year ending December 28, totaled $681,132,700, as compared with total sales of $617,635,555 for the year ending Dec. 29, 1956, which brings the total increase for 1957 to $63,497,145 and a gain of 10.28 percent over the previous record year of 1956.

National Tea Co. started its climb to present record sales in 1943, when annual volume reached what up to then was an all time high of $92 million with 874 stores in operation. When present management took over in 1945, sales had never exceeded $100 million in any one year. Under McNamara's program of decentralization, modernization, expansion and aggressive merchandising, sales began to show new record increases each succeeding year, chalking up a record of 15 consecutive gains, each a new all time high, until this past year with sales in excess of $681 million, the company's annual volume now stands at 640 percent more than at the start of the upward trend. At the close of 1957 the company had 833 stores in operation.

Mrs. Robert Anderson

Rev. and Mrs. Lach of Christ Lutheran church visited with members of the congregation in Laguna Woods the afternoon of January 11.

Mrs. Anderson attended a recent bridal shower in Chicago and visited with girls with whom she used to work and who are familiar with Orland Park. One of the ladies, Mrs. Ruth Gartland, was related to the late Mrs. Toelle of Orland Park and often visits with other relatives on Raney's Lane and on 143rd st. Mrs. Margaret Sorenson, also of Chicago, is a friend of Father Coyle and his sister Miss Rose Coyle and knew Father Coyle before he became a priest.

Neighbors of Mrs. B. Andrews were surprised to learn she has been in the hospital recuperating from pneumonia. It was believed she was vacationing in Florida.

Mrs. Lyle White has been confined to bed after a fall in one of the stores in Palos Heights.

Friends enjoyed watching Bill Snedden doing fancy skating on the small pond recently—pretty slick aye, Bill? Mrs. Bradshaw fell while skating and had eight stitches taken to close the wound just above her eye. Mr. Bradshaw doesn't skate but plans to learn this winter.

The "Pete" Niebrugges daughter Laura has been ill.

Wonder who will win the gold plated ping pong paddle, Mose Hegyi or Woodie?

Tired of being cooped up these winter nights and not having the fun you do in the summer time. Try having a last minute pot luck dinner with some of your neighbors, or try broiling steaks in your fireplace its surprising how good they taste especially when you don't have to bother "shooing" away the flies. The dishes are done in jig time when you have company to talk to and then their is always the old standby charades that all the family can take part in. The cozy living room with the crackling logs singing in the fireplace add a warmth even summer can't compete with.

The 4-H officers' training school was most successful. The panels of 4-H Federation members did a good job. Officers of the various clubs should be able to conduct a little better meeting now that they have attended the training school.

All 4-H clubs in Cook county will take part in a window display contest presented at the officers training school.

The theme of National 4-H Club Week this year is "4-H Salute to Parents". The window display contest will help draw attention to the fine work being carried on by the 1,350 4-H members in Cook county. Over 2 million 4-H'ers in the nation will be celebrating 4-H Week.

Several new projects have been introduced into the 4-H program. They made the program more adaptable to suburban surroundings. The new projects are: Dog Care, bird study, automotive maintenance, and photography (material not available just now). Established projects which work well in both rural and suburban areas are: entomology, electricity, home grounds beautification and gardening.

To start a club in any community we need 10 members and an adult leader. Now is the time to get a club program started. Anyone interested may contact me at the Tinley Park Farm Bureau office, phone KE 2-4374.

The South Cook County Soil Conservation district annual meeting will be held Feb. 20, 7 p.m. at the Tinley Park Methodist church. Dr. John H. Garland, geography department, University of Illinois, will be the speaker. New directors will be elected to the district board. Members of the nominating committee are: Donald Doctor, Orland Park; Cornelius Rietveld and Howard Miller, Chicago Heights. Tickets for the banquet can be obtained from the directors or at my office.

A supply of 1958 farmers income tax guides are available at this office.

The traditional Farm and Home Week at the University of Illinois is a thing of the past. It has been replaced by a Farm and Home Festival to be held March 27, 28, and 29. The theme is "Wonder Worlds of Farm and Home Progress", with dramatic presentations of science in action to serve the farm and home. In addition there will be a town and country art show and a talent program.

The program will take place in six exhibit areas on the south campus of the University of Illinois. Visitors can go for 1, 2 or 3 days and find something to stimulate their interest.

Soil testing in this county took a turn downward this year. Only about 5000 acres of land on 111 farms were tested. No business operates very efficiently without an inventory. A soil test is an inventory of the chemical resources in your soil. Wise soil and fertilizer use should take into account this chemical inventory.

Gibberellin, the wonder treatment that produced amazing results on certain plants, has no apparent effects on soybean. Yields were the same on treated and untreated beans.

Farmers Ask How Recession Affects Them

by L. H. SIMERL
(Dept. of Ag. Economics)

Many farmers are asking how the business recession will affect them. The answer to their question depends upon (1) how long the recession lasts, (2) how severe it becomes, (3) what the farmer is producing, and (4) what the government does to protect the farmer from the effects of reduced consumer spending for food and other farm products. This discussion concerns the length and severity of depressions. The other questions will be discussed at a later time.

Many businesses run in waves or cycles. Periods of much and little activity tend to follow one another. There seem to be cycles in the production of shoes, clothing, automobiles and construction. The cycles in shoes, clothing and automobiles seem to be fairly short—two or three years. The cycle in construction is much longer—perhaps 20 to 25 years.

Some industries are depressed at any given time. If several industries are depressed at one time, we have a minor recession, or a "rolling readjustment." If many industries get into trouble at the same time we have a major depression.

A major depression began about eleven years after the Civil War and also eleven years after World War I. The present recession began twelve years after World War II. No two depressions, however, are exactly alike.

The major depression after World War I was the worst in our history. It began in 1929 and lasted until the big spending for World War II began in 1941. Half of the factory workers and three fourths of the construction workers were unemployed during much of that time.

Most major depressions are like flu epidemics—they are world wide. The depression of the 1930's was greatly aggravated by many bank failures. Our present banking system is much more depression resistant than that of 30 years ago.

Short, minor recessions have occurred every few years. There have been two since World War II. One was in 1949-50, the other in 1954. These were largely "inventory" recessions. Stocks of merchandise became too large. Some workers were laid off but customers kept buying, and after a few months the workers were called back. Few individual workers, however, were off the payroll for more than a few weeks.

The present recession is in part an inventory recession. But it may be more. Our oil wells and mines seem to be overdeveloped, for a while, at least. Many of our factories, from steel mills to auto plants, may be overbuilt. Reduced spending for new plants and equipment is a factor in all major recessions.

Increased government spending for defense may help to pull us out of this recession, as it did the recession of 1949-50. At the least, however, it will be several months before employment and payrolls get back to boom levels.

It is not possible to accurately forecast government action at this time. National defense considerations are being given much attention. But the coming elections, in 1958 and 1960, also are receiving attention. And a divided government—one party in control of the legislative branch and the other in control of the executive branch—does not make for the best governmental responsibility.

Read Mark 6:34-44.
How many loaves have ye?
Mark 6:38.)

It is said that during the childhood of Elizabeth, now Queen of England, when gifts or sweets were presented to her, her first question usually was, "Is there any for my sister?" The finest offering meant nothing to Elizabeth unless it could be shared with Princess Margaret.

Perhaps our loaves are few—not even five—but if our hearts are filled with the love that asks, "Is there any for my sister, my brother, for the 'whoso-evers' of the world?" then we will place them all in the Master's hands. Only then may we see the miracle which multiplies the bread so that none need be omitted in the breaking of the bread.

How much we have is unimportant; it is what we do with what we have that counts. Jesus said, "Bring them here to me." "Give ye them to eat."

PRAYER

Our Father, may the love of Thy Son so fill our hearts that this day we may be like Him. As He gave, so may we give. As He loved, so may we love. Help us to enthrone Him so that today He may walk the earth in us, loving and giving. For the world's sake, and in His name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Today all my loaves are for the Master—and for those for whom He died.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The fact that the healing, saving power of the Christ, Truth is always present will be explained at Christian Science services Sunday, Jan. 26. The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Truth" will include the following from Matthew (9:35): "And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people."

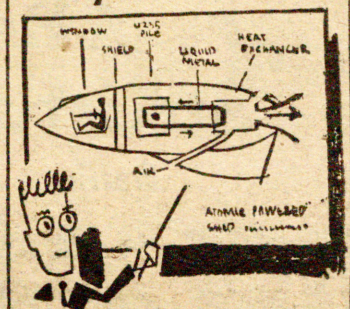

Correlative selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (494:30): "Our Master cast out devils (evils) and healed the sick. It should be said of his followers also, that they cast fear and all evil out of themselves and others and heal the sick. God will heal the sick through man, whenever man is governed by God. Truth casts out error now as surely as it did nineteen centuries ago. All of Truth is not understood; hence its healing power is not fully demonstrated."

For what is a man profited if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? —St. Matthew 16, 26.)

So often, these days, so many of us sacrifice so much to make "big" money—to "hit the jackpot" of fame or fortune—and we ignore the inner longing that is our soul. Somehow we think that this can wait until we have made ourselves secure in success... But, who knows the day and hour of his death?

EDDIE the EDUCATOR says

Atomic energy is now a reality. Will the schools be encouraged or permitted to prepare today's pupils to meet the changes which will follow?

HEAD LETTUCE 10c

Sit in the gallery of either the House or the Senate this week and most of the talk you will hear will be about increased government spending for a big build up in the defense program.

Probably none of the orators will say anything about how a big increase in spending is to be financed, yet that is almost as important as building intercontinental missiles. Will it mean more taxes, or more debt?

That is a question to be faced, sooner or later, and the man who is expected to provide the answer is a quiet Arkansan named Wilbur Daigh Mills, Representative from the Second District of Arkansas and new chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

This is the committee through which all tax and fiscal policies must first clear before reaching congressional debate. It has first jurisdiction over all revenue legislation. Mr. Mills has been a member for 15 years.

I have known Wilbur Mills for the entire 20 years he has been a member of Congress, and my estimation of his ability and integrity has grown in each of those years. At 48 years of age, he is one of the youngest and most capable committee chairman under a seniority system that gives years of service priority over ability. Fortunately, Mr. Mills has both.

Probably no man in Congress and few, if any, men in the country know more about taxation and fiscal policy than Mr. Mills. In those matters he has the respect and complete confidence of members of both parties in Congress.

Little given to old fashioned oratory, Mr. Mills relies instead on a thorough knowledge of his subject, painstaking preparation and a clear, convincing delivery to win the support of his colleagues in Congress.

Some of them have told us there have been times when they followed his advice against warnings that to do so was "bad politics," but that invariably his advice was both sound and good politics.

An example of this occurred last spring when Democratic leaders decided it would be a good idea to put a tax relief bill through the House and have it ready for Senate action in the 1958 congressional election year.

Mr. Mills torpedoed that move by holding hearings of a Fiscal Policy subcommittee, of which he was chairman, and producing expert witnesses to show that tax cuts in a period of declining revenues and rising expenditures would be fiscally irresponsible and politically unwise. Events have shown that Mr. Mills was far-sighted in his action.

Mr. Mills was born at Kensett, Ark., the son of a country banker, and graduated from Hendrix College and Harvard University Law School. He hung out his shingle in 1933 and was elected county judge in 1934. He was elected to Congress in 1938, and has been re-elected nine times.

Physically, he is 5 feet, eight inches tall and weighs a compact 180 pounds. He is married to his childhood sweetheart and they live, with their two teen-aged daughters, in a quiet apartment here.

New Explorer Scout Unit Wins Award

While it opened its doors for business yesterday the Tinley Park Walgreen agency drug store at 16952 Oak Park ave. will have its formal grand opening next Thursday and Friday Jan. 30-31.

The owners, Edward and Robert Loseff—they are brothers—take considerable pride in their establishment which they contend is one of the finest and most modern drug stores in the state.

It was designed and built as a drug store, the Loseffs pointed out, with special attention to the convenience and comfort of shoppers.

The new store has 3300 square feet of floor space, lighted by 480 linear feet of fluorescent tubing. Step up shelving gives clerks easy access to every item. The old rolling ladder formerly needed to reach top shelves, is gone.

The store has departments for cosmetics, candy, smokers' supplies; household supplies, cameras and photographic equipment and supplies, veterinarian supplies, wines and liquors and of course, a prescription department and a huge inventory of medicines.

"We have always considered the compounding of prescriptions the most important part of our business," the Loseffs declared.

And in line with this the prescription department has been patterned after a scientific laboratory, with thousands of drugs vaccines and serums kept under careful dating control and refrigeration—where needed—for maximum potency and freshness, the Loseffs added. Sick-room and emergency supplies—for physicians and surgeons—round out the departments.

Both of the men are registered pharmacists. Edward is a graduate of the University of Illinois, and Robert of Purdue university.

Says Tax Reform Vital to Safety of the Nation

A warning that in the stress of the missile satellite problem the nation must not be misled into ignoring pressing domestic issues, particularly taxation reform, is sounded by Wm. J. Grede, chairman of the taxation committee of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Mr. Grede, president of Grede Foundries, Inc., Milwaukee, holds that American liberties are more endangered by socialistic tax processes than by Russian technological achievements—which, he said recently, the United States is capable of meeting, adding:

"We may have let the Soviets get a six year start on us, but this does not add up to a crisis in public spending. The funds budgeted for missiles in the current federal fiscal year are less than three percent of the total budget and no authority has projected a figure for next year much higher than four percent of the budget.

Economies Essential

"Economies in civilian activities, and in obsolete and wasteful military activities, could more than make up for any and all increases in the rate of spending on missiles."

Mr. Grede urged that taxpayers make themselves heard in the House Ways and Means Committee public hearings on the proposed Sadlak-Herlong and other tax reform bills. He called the Sadlak-Herlong bill "the first thorough-going legislative reform of the income tax rate structure since the rates started their upward movement 25 years ago," and emphasized:

The Real Danger

"The danger confronting the nation is not Soviet missiles or Sputniks—it is the danger that we will allow spectacular Russian shows to postpone urgently needed tax reform.

"Tax reform—moderation of the excessive and discriminatory income tax rates—is essential to the maintenance, and the improvement and expansion, of American industry, and vital to our ability to defend ourselves.

"Russia does not so much fear our ability to produce Sputniks and missiles, but rather the dynamic power of a free industrial society. This contest is not over Sputniks—if the launching of the Sputnik causes us to destroy our free economy, the Russians have accomplished their mission."

Illinois Newsmen Plan Traffic Safety Program

Plans for a traffic safety program to save 100 lives in Illinois this year will be made at a meeting next month. The time and place will be announced later.

Some 200 newspapermen and industrial editors from all parts of the state endorsed the campaign at the Illinois Editor and Publisher Highway Traffic Safety Seminar in Peoria, Jan. 9-11. Mrs. Margaret Semmler, editor and publisher of the Semmler Newspapers, was one of those in attendance.

James E. Bulger, vice president of the Chicago Motor club and secretary of the seminar sponsoring committee, said:

"We are grateful to every newspaper in Illinois for their support in making our seminar the success that it was. I am confident this support will continue throughout the year. The slogan of our campaign is: 'Save 100 Lives in Illinois in 1958.' Our goal will be reached, I am sure, with the continued cooperation of the press."

Co-chairmen of the seminar implementation committee are Robert Greenaway, editor of the DeKalb Chronicle, and Hal Foust, automobile editor of the Chicago Tribune. Other newspapermen of the state will be named to the committee next month.

Winners of the seminar safety contest for the best editorial, promotion or news story during 1957 were: weekly newspapers, Maywood Herald; dailies, DeKalb Chronicle; industrial publications, The Standard Bearer, published by the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana.

Warren G. Harding was the first president to ride to his inaugural in an automobile.
